Relationships:

Please consider the following carefully. Running a camp for young people requires a special spirit, a willingness to be flexible and adaptable, and a willingness to submit to leadership. We hope that this week of camp will be a growth experience for counselors as well as for campers.

Can you and are you willing to keep a Christ-like attitude under possibly trying physical or emotional circumstances? _____

Can you put God first, campers second, and yourself third during this week of camp? _____

What are some of personal traits that may sometimes make it difficult for you to get along well with others?

There is no tobacco of any form or alcohol allowed on camp premises. Would this be a problem for you? _____
